Re: Proposal to Be Your ICT, Data Cabling and Security Systems Partner on Office and Workplace Projects

Dear Mr. Freeman,

On large office and workplace projects, the building is only ready for its occupants when the data, Wi-Fi and security systems are working. These systems are best designed in at the planning stage, not added after finishing. Film Beyond Imagination (FBI) would like to be the ICT and security systems partner you can rely on for your projects.

What we deliver

- Structured cabling: Cat6/Cat6A data points, fibre backbones between floors, patch panels and labelled, tested cabling to every workstation.
- Networking and Wi-Fi: server and communications rooms, racks, switches, firewalls and seamless office Wi-Fi coverage.
- CCTV: HD cameras for entrances, car parks, perimeters, corridors and common areas, with recording and remote viewing for facility managers.
- Access control and intercom: card or biometric doors, visitor management, gate and barrier control.
- Smart building options: automated lighting and AC control in offices and meeting rooms to cut energy costs.

How we work with you

We review your drawings and propose cable routes, containment and equipment locations, then coordinate with your electrical and finishing contractors on site so work runs to your programme. Every point is tested before handover, with as-built drawings, a test report, user training and a maintenance plan for the facility manager.

Why FBI

One team for design, supply, installation and support. We are responsive, tidy on site and deliver on schedule. We offer a free design review and quotation for your current or next project.

We would welcome a short meeting or site visit at your convenience to discuss your upcoming projects.

Yours sincerely,

Jerbel Mark Addeh
