Re: Proposal for Impact Films and Communication Campaigns for Your Village Development Work

Dear Mrs. Noordermeer-Panou,

Stepping Stones for Africa supports grassroots development in villages in West Africa, with supporters in the Netherlands and Ghana who give from far away. The strongest way to keep them engaged is to let them see the change themselves. Film Beyond Imagination (FBI) would like to tell those stories on film.

What we propose

- Impact films: short documentaries following a project from need to result, told by the villagers, teachers and families involved.
- Donor and fundraising videos for appeals, events in the Netherlands and grant applications, with Dutch or English subtitles.
- Social media campaigns: short clips and photo stories each month to keep supporters close.
- Photography and drone footage of project sites, for reports and your website.

What the foundation gains

- Evidence of impact that builds trust with donors and partners.
- A library of footage you can reuse for years.
- NGO rates, with work planned around your project calendar and budget.

Why FBI

We produce films and communication campaigns for organisations across Ghana, and work respectfully with communities.

We would welcome a short meeting in Dodowa to plan a first impact film and prepare a free quotation.

Yours faithfully,

Jerbel Mark Addeh
