Re: Proposal for Impact Films and Campaign Media Support

Dear Sir/Madam,

From the Know What You Eat campaign on front-of-package food labels to your documentary on women cocoa farmers and the Citizens' Watch newsletter, SEND Ghana turns research into change. Film Beyond Imagination (FBI) would like to help your next campaigns reach further with strong, human video.

What we offer

- Impact documentaries and short films on your programmes in agriculture, health, gender and public finance, told through the communities you serve.
- Campaign content: TV and radio spots, social media clips and explainer videos for advocacy such as Know What You Eat.
- Event coverage and live streaming of launches, policy dialogues and stakeholder forums, so partners and donors can follow online.
- Photography and drone footage for reports, proposals and donor updates.

Why FBI

We produce communication campaigns and broadcast content for clients including the District Assemblies Common Fund and Criterion Media House, and run our own live channel, FBI TV. We work sensitively with communities and deliver on donor timelines.

We offer a free creative concept and budget for your next campaign or report launch. We would welcome a short meeting with your communications team.

Yours faithfully,

---
